of the respective associations for final passage.

The meeting of the Business Men's Association is to be held at Gude's Hall next Monday evening, when the action of the directors recommending consolidation is expected to be approved.

On Tuesday evening, at a place not yet determined, the members of the Jobbers and Shippers' Association are to meet and are expected to ratify the action taken by their directors.

The first meeting of the new Washington Chamber of Commerce will be held Thursday, April 25, at the New Willard. The organization then effected will be contingent upon what can be accomplished by the two associations for the purpose of drawing up a comprehensive plan of organization for the chamber, to be submitted at its first meeting. No one has been recommended for membership on this joint committee by the Business Men's directors, but the directors of the Jobbers and Shippers' Association have named the following committee, subject to the approval of the entire membership at the meeting next Tuesday: Charles J. Bell, Monroe Luchs, R. W. Guy, B. F. Saul and Jackson H. Ralston.

CITY HALL LUNCHROOM WILL HAVE NEW RULES

The City Hall lunch room, which was closed some days ago because a negro lawyer insisted on being entertained in the same room, at the same table and at the same time with white members of the local bar, has resumed business at the old stand.

Under the new management it is said colored persons may avail themselves of the privileges guaranteed them under the civil rights bill, "but they will have to pay the price" fixed by Mrs. Altofer, the new proprietor.

ISSUES ENGRAVING OF UNION STATION

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company has recently issued a handsome photo-engraving of the new union passenger station at Washington.

The picture is about five by two feet. When framed and hung in the various railway stations and commercial offices of the country, the illustration will give the public an adequate idea of the beauty of the new structure, and of the vastly better accommodations that are to be afforded the visitors to the Capital in the future.
